$100,000 TOBACCO POOL AT VIROQUA PRACTICALLY HOLDS PRICES FOR ENTIRE MARKET

EQUITY SOCIETY HAS 600,000 LBS

One-tenth of All Growers in the Combination; Others Benefit by Operation

TOBACCO TRUST MUST "DIG"

The Farmers' Organization Forms Largest Agreement on "Weed" Ever Known Here

A hundred thousand dollar tobacco pool directly including one-tenth of the growers and in reality controlling the prices on practically ten times that amount of tobacco, has been formed at Viroqua. It is the biggest pool, three times over, ever formed in this section and from present indications will force the tobacco "trust" to pay profitable prices to the farmers for their crops.

The present pool, which includes about 600,000 pounds of tobacco retains all tobacco but the "filler" of the 1908 crop. The pool is three times as large as the pool which forced good prices for the 1907 crop and about one-tenth of the growers are actively participating in the pool. This does not mean that the Society of Equity, which is behind the pool, controls only one-tenth of the crop. There is only a tenth of the growers who contribute to the maintenance of the pool, but all growers take advantage of the prices which are forced through the operations of the society and buyers are met with "pay us, or we join the pool." Therefore it may be conservatively estimated that the society practically controls the entire 1908 crop which has been sized and stored in the society's warehouses ready for the market.

Officers of the society claim they do not intend holding the crop for exorbitant prices, but that through the influence of the pool, they will be able to demand profitable prices, whereas in the past when growers were unprotected they were forced to take what buyers offered, or let their stock of tobacco go to ruin. Good prices were secured for last year's crop and even better are expected this season. Officials of the pool believe an average of 14 cents will be realized on the 1908 crop, although it is not considered as good a crop as the year preceding.

Speaking of the profit to tobacco growers from the existence of the pool and the protection afforded through the operation of the branch of the American Society of Equity, a prominent officer said that it would mean an added $50,000 at least the growers of this section, over what they would have received in the old unprotected system.

BOSTON ARTILLERY NOW IN MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 4.—The ancient and honorable artillery company of Boston, founded in the seventeenth century, arrived in Milwaukee at 10:30 this morning prepared to undergo a siege of three days' banquets and excursions to Milwaukee's notable spots. The company paraded in its unique uniforms upon arrival here and then began the round of dinners. The party which numbered 300 men, includes many of the leading business and professional men of Boston.

MISSOULA, Mont., Oct. 4.—A party of Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and Puget Sound directors headed by President A. J. Earling, have started on a trip of inspection over the line surveyed along Blackfoot river, north of Swan Lake, with a view, it is understood, of making recommendations for the immediate construction of a railroad from Banter, Mont., to the international boundary.

The tour is being made with a view to establishing direct rail communication between the main line of the Puget Sound railroad and the Crow's Nest over the Canadian boundary.

WRIGHT FLIES UP THE HUDSON RIVER

Aeroplane Makes Twenty Miles in Full View of a Vast New York Crowd

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Following are the official figures of Wilbur Wright's flight:
Time in air 33 minutes, 33 seconds.
Distance (as the crow flies) 18.3 miles.
Actual distance traveled about 24 miles.
Average speed 45 1/2 miles an hour.
Started 9:53.
Landed 10:26:33.
Average altitude during flight, 200 feet.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Cheered by countless thousands that crowded the Battery and lined both shores of the Hudson and receiving a whistle salute from the hundreds of craft in the river, Wilbur Wright today flew in his aeroplane from Governor's Island up the Hudson to 130th street, and returned to the island, achieving one of his greatest aeronautic triumphs. The distance was about twenty miles and the flight which began at 9:53, lasted exactly 33 minutes and 33 seconds, according to J. J. Hammer, the secretary of the aeronautical committee of the Hudson-Fulton celebration. The trip up the river was made along the New York side, where Wright said he found the wind strong and unexpectedly gusty. It was this fact that prevented him from circling Grant's tomb. Instead he circled above the river and headed on the return trip along the New Jersey side. The wind on this side, however, was much more high, and Wright thinks his speed back was easily at the rate of forty miles an hour. The height varied from forty to 400 feet. At the outset Wright flew at a low height as the tall buildings along the downtown section created strong air currents and uncertain drafts that made it dangerous to fly at a great height unless he went at too great a height for the people to see him to advantage. "And I wanted the people to get a good view of the machine," he said. Leaving the downtown section, however, Wright pointed the machine upward and quickly attained the height of between 300 and 400 feet.

As the machine neared Governor's Island on the return trip, Wright flew very low and was but a few feet over the heads of those on the island. The machine settled as gracefully as a bird and Wright stepped out, the happiest man on the island.

PULITZER'S BROTHER DIES A SUICIDE

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—Albert Pulitzer, a brother of Joseph Pulitzer, proprietor of the New York World, and the St. Louis Post Dispatch, was found dead today in his apartments in the Grand hotel in this city, a suicide from a revolver shot. Pulitzer shot himself yesterday though his death was not discovered until today. He was suffering from a nervous breakdown for which he had sought vainly for relief.

Dr. Jacob Pollak said Mr. Pulitzer's nerves were shattered to such an extent as to affect his mind and he was suffering from the fear that he was going mad.

Albert Pulitzer was 58 years old and had lived abroad since 1895. He established the New York Morning Journal in 1882 and was its editor till 1895, when his health failed. He then sold the paper and went abroad.

He was born in Hungary.

TAFT ENTERS CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 4.—President Taft entered California at 8:23 a. m. today and spent the day passing Mount Shasta. He will be met by Gov. Gillette and a big reception party at Red Bluff at 5:30 o'clock this evening. He will arrive at Sacramento at 7:30 tonight and reach Berkeley, California, tomorrow morning.

TREASURER DAHL LIKELY CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

WOULD MAKE GREAT RUN IN 3RD. DIST.

Would Have Support of Judge Mahoney in Event of His Becoming a Candidate

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Dissatisfaction over the appointment of Hulbert of Baraboo, a rank Tory, as supervisor of the census for the Third Congressional district, coupled with some of the other movements of Congressman Kopp may result in State Treasurer A. H. Dahl becoming a candidate for congress. The progressives were in favor of the appointment of Dugdale of Grant county as the supervisor of the census, but it is now asserted that the stalwarts are gradually gaining control and the old Babcock regime is about to be rejuvenated. The supervisor of the census has the appointment of nearly two hundred subordinates and it is feared that a stalwart political machine might be built up in this district. It is known that a number of prominent men from all sections of the state have called upon State Treasurer Dahl and urged him to become a candidate, but he is uncertain. Judge D. O. Mahoney is again mentioned for the place, but it is said that he has recently assumed new duties and unless there would be a general demand that he make this contest he may not enter. Judge Mahoney is one of the strongest La Follette men in the district, and in the event of Dahl becoming a candidate, he would throw his influence to the support of the treasurer.

State Treasurer Dahl, whose home is at Westby, is particularly strong in this section of the state. Delegates from several of the counties, including Sauk and Grant, have already sent him word that they would be glad to support him.

In congress Kopp's attitude has been such that he could not be classed as a "progressive" or a "standpatter," but in spite of his middle course the census appointment lends strong flavor to the belief that he will join the latter school.

KNIFE, NOT DISEASE, KILLED JOHNSON

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 4.—"Operations for appendicitis should be classed as 'criminal' and as such be prohibited by law," declared Charles E. Page, one of the best known physicians of this city. Dr. Page states that he has for years kept a record of deaths traced directly to the appendicitis operation and the record is appalling.

The deaths of Clyde Fitch and Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, he ascribes to the operation—not to the disease.

INDIAN AGENCY AT BLACK RIVER

Congressman Esch with the Senatorial Committee at Jackson County Seat Today

Congressman J. J. Esch of this city is today at Black River Falls with the senatorial committee investigating the Winnebago Indian conditions. The committee consists of Senators La Follette, Wisconsin, Clapp of Minnesota, Brown of Nebraska and Gage of Vermont.

At the meeting this morning nothing definite was done. About 75 of the Winnebago Indians are present at the meeting.

The principal matter which will be investigated will be the distribution of $900,000 among the Indians, which was provided for by an act of congress at its last session.

At the last session of congress no provision was made for the full payment of annuities to the Winnebagoes and the committee will make an effort to bring through congress early in the next session an act which will provide for the payment of these annuities early this winter.

POLICE DEPT. HAS NO CLUE

Clever Gang of Thieves Believed to Have Been at Work Here During Fair Week

YEGGS EVERYWHERE ACTIVE

Robberies Are Reported Throughout Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota in Great Numbers

Police are searching for thieves who on Wednesday, during the fair, burglarized the home of Joseph Miller, tobaccoist, 423 Madison court. No clues have been found.

Mrs. Miller locked up the house shortly after dinner time on Wednesday and went to the fair grounds. When she returned at supper time the front door was standing wide open, but she thought it possible it might not have been locked.

Yesterday when Carl Miller, her son, looked for his new suit, he found the coat and vest missing, although the trousers hung where he had left them. Further investigation showed five rings had been stolen, together with two razors and some other valuables.

The case was immediately reported to the police, but no clue to the thieves or the whereabouts of the stolen articles has been found.

MUTILATED TRAMP FOUND AT ALMA

The mutilated body of a man was found on the Burlington tracks between this city and Alma, Wis., shortly after midnight last night by the crew of a south bound train. Investigation brought out the fact that he had been run over by a north-bound freight train while sleeping on the track.

An inquest was held and a stranger who had been held for vagrancy on being shown the remains said that they were those of his brother, who had come with him from St. Paul in a box car with the intention of going to Dubuque.

The dead man's name was John Olson and his home was in Boston, Mass. He was a blacksmith. He was a single man, but had brothers and sisters in this country and in Sweden.

ATHLETES SWAMP THE BLUE LABELS

The hopes of the city championship which were so fondly cherished by the Blue Labels, were rudely shattered at the league park yesterday afternoon when they met defeat at the hands of the Athletics whom they had challenged to the game, by the score of 11 to 0. Before a good sized crowd the Athletics swamped their opponents by a goodly score, completely outclassing them at all stages of the game. The feature of the game was the hurling of Nutting who struck out 17 of the Blue Labels. The Athletics got 17 hits off Balduzzi, five two baggers and one 3 bagger. But one of the Blue Labels reached third base and only two got as far as second. The score:
R. H. E.
Athletics ..... 11 17 0
Blue Labels ..... 0 4 6
Batteries—Nutting and Wais; Balduzzi and Noefke.

FIBRE COMPANY SUES

E. G. Boynton and Orlando Holway of this city are interested in the Union Fibre company of Winona which has just brought suit against Gebhart Bohn, G. C. Rohn and the White Enamel Refrigerator company of St. Paul for $341,133. The Fibre company claims that the companies were supposed to sell their product to railroads and others needing a non-conductor of heat and cold and there was irregularity in settlements.

FOUR MEN ARE SUSPECTED

Gang who Drank in Hundt Saloon and Left by Back Door May Have Done Job

Professional fur thieves, entering a skylight in the fur store of Paul Lutz, secured booty to the amount of between six and seven thousand dollars Saturday night.

Mr. Lutz today offers $250 reward for the return of the goods and says no questions will be asked.

The robbery was discovered yesterday morning by the proprietor of the store and the police were notified as soon as they could be found. Mr. Lutz was going on a fishing expedition yesterday and came to the store early to get his tackle. As soon as he opened the door and looked for his fish pole, he saw that something was wrong. The cover from the skylight was lying on a showcase and most of the figures in the window had been stripped of their costly raiment. The skylight was open and underneath it lay a costly mink collar and a pair of gloves.

Mr. Lutz made a hurried examination and found that a great part of his stock as well as his stored furs were gone. The police made an examination later, but were unable to get a clue as to the robbers.

FOUR SUSPECTS SEEN

Two middle aged men visited John Hundt's saloon on North Third street, which adjoins the fur store on the rear at closing time Saturday night. They went out through the rear door, and soon after two older men entered and they also departed through the rear entrance just as Mr. Hundt was closing for the night.

The men all purchased a drink and conversed with the bartender. They appeared to be strangers and apparently were not familiar with La Crosse. He thought at the time that it was peculiar that they all departed by the same way, but as he was just closing up, he did not give the matter further attention.

These men are suspected of the robbery. The fact that the two couples so closely followed each other and departed through the rear entrance, which is seldom used by customers, would indicate that they went this way for a purpose. The police will be furnished with the men's descriptions.

RICH FURS SECURED

Costly mink coats, sable collarettes, ermine and astrachan garments of every description were stolen. A large part of the booty taken by the thieves was stored furs belonging to La Crosse people, and many La Crosse citizens are today mourning the loss of their furs.

The thieves entered through the skylight by means of ladders belonging to Odin J. Oyen, which they found in the vicinity. They made a clean sweep, ransacking the store from top to bottom.

Through the Skylight.

By means of a rope, the booty was hauled up through the skylight to the roof from whence it was conveyed by means of Oyen's ladders to the ground. The Lutz store backs up to the rear entrance of the Hundt saloon and the alley is blind. The police are today looking for men answering the descriptions given by the bartender.

HE OVERLOOKED BIG WAD

Thief in His Haste Said to Have Failed to Secure Large Roll of Bills From Dresser

NO CLUE FOUND SO FAR

Statement Made That Identity of Thief Is Still a Mystery—Knew where Gems Were Kept

Diamonds and jewelry, valued at $2,700, thirty-five dollars in bills, and other valuables, the value of which cannot be estimated, were stolen in broad daylight from the room of Mrs. J. F. Walsh, wife of the proprietor of the Hotel Law, on September 23.

No clues have been found that would lead to the identification of the robber but the clever manner in which he entered the room, broke the lock on the drawers containing the money and other articles, shows conclusively that he was a sneak thief who had thoroughly familiarized himself with the hotel.

The stolen property included a diamond brooch valued at $1,000, diamond and emerald pins and rings, some of several carats, a Swiss watch valued at $112, and as heliolum as well. Thirty-five dollars in bills, two pocket books containing sums of money and small articles of intrinsic value were also secured.

Following the discovery of the theft a "gumshoe" campaign was begun by the police but as yet nothing has been found to throw light on the subject.

Matter Kept Quiet

No announcement of the robbery was made either by the victim or the authorities, but today the story leaked out through employees at the hotel. It is said that all hope of apprehending the culprits has been practically abandoned.

As near as can be learned Mrs. Walsh, after removing all of her jewelry, with the exception of a pair of diamond ear rings, placed it on the top of the dresser in her room, and locking the door went to dinner. A special Yale lock had been placed on the door into this room as a safeguard against possible entry by robbers.

Finds Gems Gone

She returned to her room shortly after 1 o'clock that afternoon to find the room door closed but unlocked. A hasty investigation showed that all of the jewelry on the dresser had disappeared, a drawer in the dresser containing the watch, money and other articles had been broken open and

FANCIER TO SUE EXPRESS COMPANY

Secretary Henry Hess of the Winona Poultry association, whose fowls took several blue ribbons at the state fair here last week, has started an action against the Wells-Fargo Express company for damages done to chickens shown by members of the association at the state fair handled by this company.

The chickens were kept in the St. Paul office of the company from Sunday afternoon to Wednesday morning without food or drink, and as a result Jos. Ligday lost three of his prize winning Japanese bantams, a prize winning Buff Plymouth Rock cock bird owned by Fred Weidemann was put out of the show business forever, and Henry Hess lost one of his best hens showed at the Seattle exposition. Others who had their birds more or less damaged were Gust Boll, Geo. Knopp and Hugo Sontag. The weather was warm then and the birds were placed in shipping coops, it being thought that they would be sent to Winona directly and would need no water or food in the meantime.

The Chicago Nationals' inability to hit Leiffield safely, coupled with opportune hitting by Pittsburgh and loose playing by the Cubs, gave the National league leaders an easy victory here yesterday, 4 to 1. A scratch single and a pair of errors on the same play gave Chicago their lone score.

Cincinnati won the first game, 6 to 4; and St. Louis the second, 8 to 1, in a double header yesterday afternoon. Manager Griffith used one but new men in the second contest and pitched himself. Timely hitting and errors gave St. Louis an easy victory in this game which was called after six innings.

The Detroit American champions closed the local American league season yesterday by defeating Chicago, 3 to 1.

St. Louis and Cleveland divided the final games of the season. The Browns won the first game, 6 to 4, while the Naps captured the second, 3 to 1. Bailey won the St. Louis victory, opposed to Winchell and Ables. Mitchell annexed Cleveland's battle, defeating Howell and Graham.

ten they would stop each other before the play would reach the line.

The heavy line of the Lafayette team was often torn to shreds by the fast charging pony forwards of Chicago.

At first Chicago directed its lightninglike attack at the right side of the Purdue line, avoiding the other side because of the presence of Captain Egeman. Kelley began to play rings around Egeman about the middle of the first half. Page began to send his attack impartially to all parts in the Purdue line.

Stagg shifted his lineup in the second half and the new front did not work with the ease and precision which characterized the Chicago attack in the first half. The Purdue team was badly disorganized in the second half, but Chicago's frequent lapses prevented the winners from making a larger total.

Iowa Not Strong
NORTHROP FIELD, MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 4.—Minnesota took a one-sided game from Iowa here on Saturday afternoon by a score of 41 to 0. Iowa was completely outplayed in all departments of the game, excepting in punting, Wright's kicks averaging more than Pickering's.

Minnesota presented its strongest lineup in the first half and scored 23 points. Minnesota tried only two forward passes in this half and only one successful. Most of the ground was gained in terrific off tackle plunges by Johnson, who repeatedly broke through the line for big gains. Pickering was used frequently for plunges through center, and McGovern and Stevens skirted the Iowa ends almost at will. The open field work of Johnson was a distinct feature. Twice he ran half the length of the field through the entire Iowa team for touchdowns.

Minnesota began the second half with the same lineup, but after playing through the Iowa team for two touchdowns in the first fifteen minutes of play, Coach Williams took several of his regulars out and put substitutes in their places. Iowa also made several changes toward the end of the game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 4.—Yale varied playing won the game against Syracuse for the Yale football team here Saturday 15 to 0. One touchdown was made as the result of line plunging; a goal was kicked from the field and the second touchdown followed a forward pass. Fullback Haine's knee was injured and he will be out of the game sometime. The return of the veterans—Hobbs, Goebel and Murphy—strengthened the team greatly.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 4.—Women golfers from all parts of the United States assembled on the links of the Marion Cricket club, Haverford, this morning for the qualifying round in the annual contest for the women's golf championship of the United States. The tournament will be more noteworthy than those for several years past owing to the inclusion of four British players who are likely to play a very important part before the competition comes to a close Thursday.

No less than six previous winners of the United States title, including Miss Katherine Harley of Boston, the present champion, are among the entrants. Of the 68 entries, 23 hail from Philadelphia.

Qualifying play was started at 10 o'clock. Tuesday there will be the first match play round in which the first thirty-two to qualify will participate and Wednesday there will be the second match play.

Thursday eight will play match round and two ball foursome for women. Friday will witness the semi-final match play round, the best ball foursome, scratch and Saturday there will be the final match play, mixed foursome and mixed handicap.

CHANGES OF TIME ON THE MILWAUKEE

Beginning yesterday, No. 16, a passenger train on the river division of the Milwaukee road, which formerly arrived in the city from the north at 11:50 in the morning, arrives at 11:55 a. m. This is a river division train and is taken off at this point. No. 6, which formerly arrived in this city at the Vine street station at 12:20 at noon, will now get here from the north at 12:15, adding five minutes to its running time between St. Paul and this city. These are the only trains affecting traffic into La Crosse.

Way freight No. 94 will leave at 5 o'clock in the morning instead of at 5:40 a. m. No. 91, a freight train on the Southern Minnesota division, will leave at 5 o'clock in the morning instead of at 7:35 as previously, and No. 69 will leave the North side yards at 9:30 p. m. instead of at 9:05 in the evening.

Lately we are hearing less of men husbands and more of the manner in which married daughters impose on their husbands.

AS TO MR. LEWIS

Capt. William Mitchell Lewis, of Racine, enjoys the right inherent in every citizen to seek political office,
and his ambition to become governor of this state is legitimate. Moreover, he is regarded by those who know him best as a consistent progressive whose heart is in good government.
That it is his purpose not to permit his ambition to hamper the cause of his party is indicated by his proviso that, in case he becomes convinced that the faction will not unite upon him, he will withdraw.

But it might have been better had Mr. Lewis not put the cart before the horse. The position taken by Senator Thomas Morris and F. E. McGovern, which they can now repudiate only
at their own extreme political peril, is the reverse of that assumed by Mr. Lewis, and is the more logical.
The progressive leaders months ago
agreed to unite upon some one strong and reliable man, and Morris and Mc-Govern, both aspirants, have refused to become candidates until some positive and unmistakable expression as to a choice by the majority is made, upon which the one eliminated
by that choice promises to drop out of the race.

This method does away with the necessity of a withdrawal, and involves no creation of hard feelings
among the adherents of the losing candidate upon the pronouncement of an adverse verdict by the party. It is adopted in the interest of harmony, and that the progressives may put up a solid front when opposing the reactionary candidate. Mr. Lewis is practically unheard of as a political factor, and the probability is that he has over estimated his strength.
To have joined his lot with Morris and McGovern by permitting friends to mention him, and following this with the announcement that he is not a candidate unless the unanimous choice falls to him, leaving the inference that he was willing to be considered, would have been a better course. However, unlike Lieut. Gov.
John Strange, Mr. Lewis has made positive assertion that he will withdraw in case to do so means an advantage to his party, and he will be taken at his word and given consideration in the deliberations of the progressives upon the question of who, of those who can be trusted, is probably the strongest man to make the run.

OUR BAND IS GREAT

The Inter State fair, had it been arranged for that purpose, could not have done more to prove that La Crosse has an excellent musical organization. It attracted several of best bands in Wisconsin to the city,
and by comparison the local musicians showed superior merit. In fact, the result was a triumph for western Wisconsin, showing that this section possesses a number of bands capable of acquitting themselves with credit in any company. Our local bands and their directors and officers are to be congratulated, and this public should be immensely pleased with the success attained.

HOW ABOUT THE PRESENT?

Lady Cardigan, at the age of 84,
has stirred all England by publishing memoirs of the mid-Victorian period, in which she shows the nobility of that time as prolific in "genteel vices" as the courts of the French Louis. Most of those whose names are mentioned are dead, but their descendants are white with anger, and the English courts may have an opportunity to decide whether the dead can be libeled.

While England is shocked by these revelations affecting the inhabitants of her cemeteries, it is possible that "My Recollections" might have been still more exciting had they been in reference to the surviving members of the nobility. There are no bells on the existing peerage, according to all accounts, when it comes to the question of social morality.

Wisconsin football fans are optimistic over the chances of a championship team in the state university,
and it seems there is some ground for their optimism. Not only is the Badger material most promising,
but some of the other big teams are slumping with the periodical condition that a lot of great players have graduated and raw material is substituted.

The plan of Secretary John Utermoehl of the board of trade, to secure a lecture here by Dr. Cook, is a good one. La Crosse will be glad to honor the distinguished explorer, and his appearance in La Crosse during the heat of his controversy with the disgruntled Peary would be the greatest advertisement for the city conceivable.

The Robert Goellets of New York purpose to invade English society, and the A. J. Drexels are prepared to resist the invasion. New York professors concern lest the new aspirants, like the William Astors, expatriate themselves. We earnestly suggest to the
A. J. Drexels that they withdraw their opposition.

The arrest of the man, Wright,
who attempted to approach the president with a revolver in his pocket, is fully justified, whether he be a dangerous person or merely a fool gun-toter.

The Joy That Killed

Senator Tillman was praising the humor of a Republican congressman.
"His humor, however," he concluded, "is rather grim. I told him the other day about a mutual acquaintance who had died, a man he had never liked."

"And his wife is dead, too," I said. "He himself died on Monday.
His wife died two days later. The papers didn't say what killed her."

"She was tickled to death," I guessed. "The congressman grimly."—Washington Star.

Strictly Business

you?" asked the privileged friend.
"No one," answered the heiress.
"I bought him."—Lippincott's.

SPOTLIGHTS

GOLDEN GIRL FRIDAY

The perspicacity of Mort H. Singer was clearly shown when he made the heavy expenditure of nearly $50,- 000.00 for the production of "The Golden Girl," which comes to the La Crosse theater Friday, Oct. 8, as this piece has proven to be one of the best money-makers sent out in the past decade. The amount invested is easily discerned when one sees the amount of lavish display of scenery and gorgeous costuming necessary
for its production.

Seats will be on sale Thursday morning.

"THE RED MILL"

Extravagant praise is generally suspicious, but in announcing the forthcoming engagement of Martin & Emery's Co.'s production of "The Red Mill" at the La Crosse Theater on Thursday, Oct. 7, the management has scarcely done the play justice. It has already demonstrated its worth and lasting power by being the only musical play that remained throughout the entire season at any of the New York Broadway theaters, where it was given continuously and played to the largest gross receipts
ever known at the Knickerbocker Theater, and was followed by engagements of three months each in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, and the principle cities. "The Red Mill" is by Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert, whose earlier success, "Mile Modiste," easily proclaims them the peer of all musical composers.

The story is simple: Con Kidder and Kid Connor, two Americans, are stranded at a small Dutch inn in a little Holland village. They have come to the end of their financial resources and are in debt for a week's board. They are about to make their escape by means of a blanket hope from an upstairs window when they are detected by the Burgomaster and only saved from imprisonment when they offer to work out their indebtedness. Kidder, who professes to be somewhat of a linguist, is made interpreter at the inn and Connor becomes a waiter. Kidder has but a scant knowledge of French, and when he is confronted by an irate French countess, who does not understand English, his attempts at conversation
are laughable.

The music is by Victor Herbert,
far and away the best of the composers of light music in this country;
the book is by Mr. Blossom, who has written clever dialogue in the past, and the company engaged is,
from all accounts, said to be a mighty good one. It concludes Bert O. Swor as Con Kidder, Frank Woods as Kid Connor, Otto Koerner, Alvin
Laughlin, Carl Hartberg, S. W. Stott,
Harry R. McClain, Cecil Summers,

phenologist's ear:

"At this hint the phenologist nodded gratefully. He then read out the blacksmith's bumps, crediting him
with all sorts of virtues, and finally
he said in a loud, positive tone:

"Now, I come to your diet, Gents.

"But the sentence was never finished. The blacksmith rose sudden-

Quite Harmless

Senator James B. Frazier at a bal-quet in Chattanooga, said of a certain lawsuit:

"The discussion was misunderstood. Harmless, it gave an impression of harm. It reminds me of Mountain View Beach."

"A young matron, her unmarried sister and her little daughter sat at one side of the long table at a Mountain View hotel, and opposite them sat a meek young minister that the child for some unknown reason,
greatly feared."

"One evening the young mother
wanted to go to the beach to see some fireworks with her sister, but the little girl refused to be left alone.
She screamed and wept. So it was decided to frighten her into submission by means of a trick."

"For this purpose the young sister slipped out, then came and knocked at the bedroom door, and said in a ferocious bass voice:

"What's the matter in there?"

"The child stopped crying and looked frightened. Her mother said:

"Hush. That's the parson. Now, will you go to sleep?"

"This trick succeeded. Mother and sister got off to the fireworks. Everything seemed well."

"But at dinner the next day, during a silence that had fallen on the long table, the little girl looked over at the young minister and said tauntlingly in her shrill, loud voice:

"Ah, you knocked at mother's door last night, and she wouldn't let you in."—Detroit Free Press.

The Little
Brown Jug
at Kildare.

BY MEREDITH NICHOLSON.
COPYRIGHT 1905

He went out to supper, secured the only remaining table for two, and was giving his order when the young lady appeared. She had donned her hat, and as she stood a moment in the entrance, surveying the line of tables, her distinction was undeniable. There were but two vacant places in the car, one facing Griswold
the other across the aisle at a larger table where three men were engaged in animated discussion. The girl viewed the prospect with evident disappointment as the waiter drew out
the vacant chair at Griswold's table.
She carried herself bravely, but wore still a triste air that touched Gris-wold's sympathy. He rose, told the waiter that he would sit at the other table, and the girl murmured her thanks with a forlorn smile as she took his seat.

The appearance of Griswold aroused the Mississippian to a renewal of the New Orleans incident. He was in excellent humor, and had carried to the car a quart bottle, which he pushed toward Griswold:

"As the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina—"

"No, thank you," and as he spoke Griswold's eyes fell upon the girl,
and he saw annoyance written fleet-
ingly on her face.

"You needn't be afraid of that whisky. It's all right," the Mississippian protested.

"I'm confident of that; but some other time, thank you."

"Well, sir," the Mississippian declared, "after you left us a while ago
we got to talking about Dangerfield and his trouble with Osborne. There's something back of this rumper. You see, if they lived in the same state
you might account for a fierce rivalry between them. Both of 'em, for example, might have the senatorial bee in their bonnets; but either one of 'em could make the senate any time he pleased. I guess they're the two biggest men in the South right
now. They're too big to be touchy about any small matter; that's why I reckon there's something behind this little racket over there at New Orleans. No passing remark would send men off that way, so wild that they wouldn't travel on the same lines. He told stories to illustrate

"Please pass the salt," interposed Griswold.

The Mississippian enjoyed the sound of his own voice, which boomed out above the noise of the train with broad effects of dialect that these types will not be asked to reproduce.
Griswold's eyes had again met those of the girl opposite, and there was felt, a look of appeal in them.

The discussion distressed her, just as the telegrams from New Orleans in the afternoon papers had distressed her, and Griswold began at once to entertain his table companions with his views on a number of national political issues, that were as vital to Arizona or Wyoming as to the Carolinas. He told stories to illustrate his points, and told them so well that his three companions forgot the estrangement of the belligerent governors.

Griswold ran on in the low, musical voice that distinguishes the cul-

of a recent interview in New York:

"That infringement case, too, was won. The opposition had a lot of witnesses, but they were all badly coached. As badly coached, indeed, as—But listen."

He offered to examine any one's bumps for a dime. A burly blacksmith's helper said he would have his bumps examined, and as he took his place, another man whispered in the
phenologist's ear:

"At this hint the phenologist nodded gratefully. He then read out the blacksmith's bumps, crediting him
with all sorts of virtues, and finally
he said in a loud, positive tone:

"Now, I come to your diet, Gents.
If there is one thing in the world
our subject dotes on, it is veal. Why

"But the sentence was never finished. The blacksmith rose suddenly and knocked the phenologist down.

"Blas't ye!" he roared. "What's it got to do with you if I did steal a calf?"—Washington Star.

ELEVEN LIVES ENDANGERED IN CRASH OF FREIGHT TRAINS

FRED STERNLICHT, STOCKMAN IS HURT

Second Section of Stock
Train Crashes Into Rear
End of Standing
Freight

ENGINEMEN SAVED BY LEAP

All are Shaken Up and Car of Salmon Burns, but There Are No Fatalities

Eleven men riding in the caboose of first section of freight train No. 129 had a miraculous escape from death yesterday morning at about 10:20 o'clock, when the second section of the stock train crashed into the rear end above River Junction, a tower station of the Milwaukee road several miles north of this city on the west bank of the Mississippi river.

But one man, Fred Sternlicht, a stockman from Miles City, Mont., was hurt, sustaining a badly sprained ankle. He was taken to the city in a launch and is today resting easily at the La Crosse hospital.

The first section of freight train No. 129 was standing on the track near River Junction. It is claimed that the men in the approaching second section were unaware of the train's position on the track, as it was hidden by a sharp curve in the road. The second section, with Engineer John Pool and Fireman William Knebes, 713 Rose street, in the engine cab, running at a rate of about ten miles an hour crashed into the caboose, derailing and piling up about fifteen of the cars in the first section. The two men in the cab, seeing the impending disaster, jumped from the engine and saved themselves from possible death. The wrecked cars caught fire and before it could be extinguished, the caboose with the stockmen's and the train crew's clothing, and two cars of salmon were burned to a crisp. Engine 2072, one of the large K1 type, was badly damaged, the pilot being knocked off, several of the cylinder heads being broken and the headlight and entire front of the locomotive being demolished. The wood work on the front of the engine was burned.

The wrecking crews from the north side were soon at the scene of the wreck and work was started. The westbound track was cleared in time for the early morning passenger train, but the crews with the aid of the Minneapolis wrecker, are still clearing away the wrecked and demolished box and stock cars. The eastbound trains were all from one to three hours late last evening but it is expected that traffic will be resumed on schedule time by this evening. Passenger train No. 55, for the north was sent over the Burlington road yesterday. The other train succeeded in getting through at River Junction but was late several hours. The wrecking crew was kept at work most of the night and resumed operations this morning. No effort has been made to place the blame for the accident. Officials say that all trains passing through River Junction must be under complete control and it is evident that the second section of the freight train was not under control at the time of the accident.

The engine is today at the local roundhouse of the Milwaukee, where it is being repaired. It is creating much interest among the people of the city, who are flocking to see it. The scene of the wreck yesterday was crowded with spectators who came over from this city, to see the smashed and burning box cars.

A small wreck in the east yards last night delayed traffic for several hours. Several box and bad order stock cars were derailed, the cause of the accident being unknown. The wrecker cleared up the damaged cars and side tracked them, business being resumed this morning.

ANDERS OVREN IS VICTIM OF DROPSY

ASK REAPPOINTMENT OF WARDEN MANNEL

SPARTA, Wis., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The backwardness of the state game warden department in reappointing Geo. Mannel to succeed himself in this district is the cause of a great stir in this county and a petition was started Saturday in this city and at Tomah asking for his reappointment. Already hundreds of members of the gun clubs, business men and citizens have signed their names.

Mannel's appointment has been held up for some unknown reason and as he has been absolutely fearless in the duties of a game warden the community is up in arms regarding the matter.

There were no applicants who tried the examinations for game warden Saturday and this fact should mean Mannel's reappointment.

CHICAGOANS LIKE LIBRARIAN LEGLER

Appointment of Former La Crosse Man Is Popular with Newspapers of the Big City

Chicago newspapers express warm approval of the selection of Henry E. Legler as head of the Chicago public library. Mr. Legler is a former La Crosse man and is a brother of Mrs. Peter Newburg.

The Evening Post says: "With the selection by the civil service commission of Mr. Henry E. Legler as the new head of the Chicago public library, Chicago is disposed to be decidedly well pleased. As the secretary of the very able Wisconsin free library commission and a prominent figure in the American Library association the appointee is already well and favorably known in this city. His reputation for energy and efficiency gives assurance that the affairs of the library will prosper as they have not prospered for a long time. The task confronting Mr. Legler is one which would fire the imagination of a far less able librarian than he, and we have no doubt that he will take hold of things with a vim."

Good Reasons to Rejoice

The Daily News says: "Chicagoans have good reason to rejoice at the outcome of the civil service examination by which a new head for this city's public library has been chosen. Henry E. Legler, secretary of the Wisconsin free library commission, who has won the position under merit tests, is believed to be thoroughly equipped for the important work he is now to undertake. Not only those who appreciate the great possibilities for education and culture which may be realized through enlightened management of the Chicago public library by a man of Mr. Legler's experience, energy and ability, but the friends of civil service methods, of making appointments to public positions, must rejoice at the outcome of the systematic quest for a librarian. Mr. Legler's declared policy of library administration is most satisfactory. His views as to the necessity of bringing the library close to the people by branch libraries and otherwise and his avowed purpose to render it of broad educational value to the children of Chicago indicate that he is the right man to build up the city library service."

The Chicago Journal says: "Mr. Legler's reputation for ability, excellence of work, is widespread and his coming to Chicago is believed to mean many reforms and improvements in the local public library."

Mrs. H. M. Pugh of Bangor have gone on a trip to Austin, Lyons Springs and other points in Minnesota in the Jones automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Radke, who have been taking in the Seattle exposition and visiting relatives in California have returned home.

John L. Herbst has returned from Milwaukee after spending the week there on state fair business.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Garrett of Rochester, Minn., and Mrs. Agnes Moe of La Crosse were the guests of C. R. Garrett Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Rathburn of Eau Claire were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hollinbeck Friday.

Louis Tourville of Tomahawk came home to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tourville.

Frank Thurston and Harry Nichols have returned from Cooperstown, N. D., where they have been working the past few months.

Robert and Arthur Henry were deputized to take Bert Wildes, the Warren incendiary, to the Chippewa Falls home for feeble minded.

SPICY BOOK STIRS LONDON SOCIETY

LONDON, Oct. 4.—To sue or not to sue, is the question agitating London society for the moment. This question has been brought about through the publication of Lady Cardigan's book, "My recollections," wherein the spiciest anecdotes of the highest in the land are told with Elizabethan plainness mingled with Bourbon delicacy. She has obscured in the minds of flustered dukes and other nobles all thought of obscuring budget. The revelations are so plain, mentioning names and dates without any attempt at concealment, that already three libel suits are contemplated, although the solicitor engaged diplomatically denied that he knew anything about the matter. If one of these cases comes to trial it will be particularly interesting, raising the point at law whether the dead can be libeled.

That the book is the sensation of the day there is not the slightest doubt.

OKLAHOMA FIGHTS BACK AT NATION

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 4.—In spite of the federal injunctions issued against the state banking board, forbidding the payment to depositors of the suspended Columbia bank and Trust company, from the company's assets, Examiner Young in charge of the concern, has announced that the injunction does not specify that the depositors cannot be paid from the state guarantee fund.

The new move has aroused considerable feeling in financial circles. It is said that if the state had been unhampered it would have been able to handle the present situation but that under the circumstances, if the payment of depositors goes on it means that the state will have to make good and the real drain will come on the other banks as special assessments will be almost certain to follow.

There is no sign of financial uneasiness, however, and it is believed the affairs of the Columbia will be straightened out soon.

No better practical proof that coffee is a drug can be required

The stomach, too, rebels at be-

An Ia. woman tells the old story
thus:

"I had used coffee for six years and was troubled with headaches, nervousness and dizziness. In the morning upon rising used to belch up a sour fluid regu-

"Often I got so nervous and eyesight was getting poor."

"After using Postum a while, I observed the headaches left me
and soon the belching stopped (water brash from dyspepsia). I feel decidedly different now, and I am convinced that it is because I stopped coffee and began to use

SPAIN MAY DECLARE WAR ON MULAI HAFID

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 4. — The Spanish cabinet is in session today considering the advisability of declaring war against Mulai Hafid, sultan of Morocco, according to news smuggled over the Spanish border from Madrid. The Madrid police are having difficulty handling a mob which for twenty-four hours has been attempting to sack the Moroccan embassy. A strong guard has been placed around the embassy.

The Spanish cabinet is convinced that the latest increase in activity of the Rif tribesmen is due to the reinforcements which they are sure are from Mulai Hafid.

The chief reasons people don't tell more lies than they do is they can't think of more to tell.

OPERATOR WANTED TO USE THE WIRE

Stranger Surprises the Employees at the Western Union Telegraph Office

Miss Louise M. Sees telegraph operator at the Western Union office, 231 Main, was busy at a sender, tapping off a message to St. Paul, when a stranger entered. He walked behind the counter through the swinging door with the familiarity of an old telegrapher. "d do," he said, touching hit hat. "I'd like to talk to Eau Claire a minute." "All right," said Miss Sees without stopping her work; "that's the wire over there," nodding toward the telegraph instrument in a corner. The man went to the instrument and sat down, but presently returned to where Miss Sees was sending. "Would you talk to them for me?" he asked. "I'm busy," she said, "go on and talk to them yourself. It's a direct wire." The stranger walked back to the instrument and sat down with an uncertain attitude. He looked the sender and sounder all over with a puzzled expression, then swinging the flaring bounding box containing the sounder toward him, held his mouth close to the instrument and shouted: "Hello; Hello, Eau Claire." And Miss Sees had always bragged she could tell a telegrapher as far as she could see him.

FAIR PROFITS ARE MORE THAN $2,000

Secretary Van Auken Says
This Season Excels 1908, which Was a Good
One

PAY DEBTS AND HAVE MONEY

Association Will Start Next
Year with a Cash Balance to Aid

Although the total attendance figures and the receipts for season tickets, exhibitors tickets and concessions have not been obtained as yet by the management of the Inter State fair, Secretary C. S. Van Auken today said that the fair just passed has rivalled the fair of 1908 both in attendance and profits and that the association will this year be able to pay all of its bills, prizes and purses and will have a handsome balance toward next year's fair.

The big day of the fair was Thursday when there were between eleven and twelve thousand people on the grounds. Friday was the poorest day of the fair, but the attendance on this day was better than the poorest day of a year ago.

More Than $2,000 Balance

Mr. Van Auken said that the balance from the 1908 fair was about $2,000. This will be exceeded this year but the secretary was unable to say by how large a sum, until he has all of the figures at his disposal.

The management is today paying its purses and premiums to outside exhibitors, and the secretary said it will take a week before the outside exhibitors have been disposed of. La Crosse County exhibitors and prize winners will be disposed of beginning Friday of next week. Claims coming in before that time will be held till then, unless there is urgent reason for their immediate payment.

The management was well satisfied with its attractions and free acts this year, and all who witnessed the free performances in front of the grand stand and at the "Pay streak" on South Fourth street were impressed with the quality of the performances.

The fair ground today is a scene of confusion. Every exhibitor, stockman, huckster and peanut vender is tearing up his stand and removing his wares, and by night the grounds will be deserted, the buildings locked and abandoned for another year.

Mrs. Taylor Wins Mop
Mrs. W. C. Taylor guessed that there were 409 seeds in the pumpkin exhibited by the La Crosse Mop company at the fair and received as a prize a Perfection self wringing mop. The pumpkin contained 409 seeds. A. F. Reitzel, H. H. Long and Prof. P. L. Johnson were the judges.

Are you thinking of buying a fob? Perhaps you have hesitated on account of the style or price being too high? We can overcome both of these obstacles for you in this way:

We are the only Jewelers in the city doing a Wholesale Business, and for this reason alone we buy five times as many goods as a simple Retail Jeweler does, enabling us to get a much lower price, also five times the assortment for our customers to choose from.

Prove the above assertion yourself by comparing the size of stocks and prices with others before you buy from us.

Ladies' gold filled, woven wire Fobs, with safety attachment; regular price $4.50; OUR WHOLESALE PRICE $2.75

Gentlemen's gold-filled, woven wire Fobs, with safety attachment; regular price $5.00; OUR WHOLESALE PRICE $3.00

IMPORTANT — Our Fobs are all warranted for 20 years' wear. Do not accept our statements regarding these fobs, if you have the least bit of doubt. Go and compare our goods and prices first with any other jewelry house in the city.

NEW BATH LIKELY FOR NEXT SEASON

Mayor Sorensen Says Park Commissioners Have Promised to Act On It

ALL FAVORABLE TO SCHEME

Receipts This Summer 50 Per Cent More, Showing Profit to Be Made on Investment

With a gain of nearly 50 per cent in the receipts at the public bath this year over those of 1908, the prospects seem bright for a new bath in the lagoon in Pettibone park next season. The matter is in the hands of the board of park commissioners and it is understood that they regard it favorably.

The plan of improvement which was contemplated early this season by the board, was discontinued with the promise that something would be done along that line next season. The plans drawn up by City Engineer Bradish called for a larger and more up to date bath house in the lagoon just south of the road entering Pettibone park. It was to have all the best appliances for modern bathing beaches and was to be connected with the Mississippi river to keep a stream of fresh water in the bath at all times. The estimated cost of these improvements is between $6,000 and $7,000, a sum sufficient to provide this city with one of the finest municipal baths in the state.

Mayor Sorensen when seen in regard to the matter, stated that he thought something would be done citing the promise of the park commissioners. Secretary Schnell of the board of park commissioners stated that in his opinion the matter would be postponed about a year because of the water, sewer and park projects that are now being carried out.

The bath house was started in 1904 and after the third year the receipts decreased greatly until this year when an increase of nearly fifty per cent was recorded. The following table shows the receipts for each year that the bath has been conducted:

1904—$546.10	1907—$519.55
1905—$627.05	1908—$463.45
1906—$627.05	1909—$335.00

SUBSCRIBER SAYS HAUSER IS O. K.

In defense of Superintendent Hauser of the poor department, an anonymous writer to The Tribune today has the following to say:

"To the Editor:

"There has been a great deal said about Mr. Hauser, the poor commissioner. In the first place, to be a poor commissioner you have to suit yourself or all kinds of people; poor people who need aid and are willing to take what is given, others who are willing to take all and more than the law allows and some who are able to work but had rather live off the city than work, as they have no shame. Now in the case of Van Dorn against Mr. Hauser as published in your paper, Van Dorn was given all kinds of chances and when helped by others to get a foothold has turned them down as he has Mr. Hauser. Men who have all kinds of money for drink and none to pay their honest debts had not ought to receive one cent's worth of help. Another instance brought to notice is the helpless condition of Mrs. Cleary, who has befriended and fed them. Refused even 5 cents with which to buy oil when they were in her debt for $10 and over, and she was in bed sick for nearly two weeks from working and washing and taking care of Mrs. Van Dorn. Now this is the kind of people who are working against Mr. Hauser, our poor commissioner. Charity begins at home, and people should help themselves as well as helping others, but one good turn deserves another and Mr. Hauser has been and is a good man for the place.

"A SUBSCRIBER."

SPECIAL SESSION NOW IS DOUBTFUL

Committees Have Not Made Much Progress in the Framing of New Measures

ONLY FORTY DAYS REMAIN

Bills Must Be Finished and Submitted to Members Within Sixty Days of Session

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The holding of a special session of the legislature to consider the questions of an income tax law, guaranty of bank deposits, regulation of waterways and dam franchises, good roads and industrial insurance for working men becomes more uncertain each day. Legislators from all sections of the state, who have visited this city and Milwaukee and who have been interviewed at other places, believe the outlook is doubtful, especially as the possibility of agreement in the various committees is remote.

Although the committees were appointed last June, up to the present time their work has been preliminary and perfunctory, and the real labor before them requires many weeks of effort. It was planned by the good roads committee to hold meetings with the farmers in all sections of the state, but at the last meeting of the committee here last week only a few of the members attended and no definite plans for the future were outlined. Assemblyman John R. Jones of Leon; John A. Chinnock of Hudson; Chris Wellensgard of Berlin and Senator John S. Donald went to Milwaukee last evening for a trip to Michigan to gather information on the workings of the Michigan good roads law. This will take over a week of time.

Forty Days Remain

The resolution creating these special committees stipulates that a copy of the bill as framed by the committees must be sent to every legislator at least sixty days before the special session convenes. It is planned if an extra session is called to hold it about Jan. 10, and in this case only forty days remain for the committees to complete these investigations and plan the measures. It is evident that under such circumstances the good roads committees will have little opportunity to examine fully the ideas of Wisconsin farmers.

The committees on guaranty of bank deposits is now in Oklahoma gathering information on the working of the law in that state. So far the bankers, who are offering strong opposition to any guaranty law, have been given little opportunity for hearing, and the presentation of their claims will consume much time.

The industrial insurance committee is scheduled to meet in Milwaukee some time today. As little information exists in this country on the plan proposed by the working men's insurance committee much of the data must be gathered from statistics obtained in Germany. As such a law proposes radical changes in the management of almost every industrial plant in the state the work of drafting a measure will take much more time than was first thought.

The committee on dam franchises has held a number of hearings, but little has yet been done on the income tax problem which promises to be one of the most complex of any of the measures to be presented.

Views Are Varied

With the present outlook based upon the work accomplished by all of the committees to date the plan for a special session in January becomes almost impossible when it is remembered that many of the members of the committees hold diverse views from the other members on the question under investigation. Assemblyman John R. Jones holds ideas on the good roads greatly different from those held by Senator Browne and it will take weeks of drafting and redrafting a bill before all of the members can agree. The same is true of the guaranty of bank deposits committee and others.

"The next forty days will determine whether there will be a special session or not," said Assemblyman John Chinnock a few days ago. "I will admit it begins to look rather doubtful and it will take hard work by all of the committees to get the bills drafted and in the hands of the committees within the next six weeks. We have still to hold a number of meetings throughout the state. At the Madison meeting a few days ago neither Senator Browne or Senator Burke were present. If a special session is to be held we must all get together and pull or the whole matter will be thrown up in the air for the next regular session."

CHORAL CLUB TO ORGANIZE WEDNESDAY

A meeting will be held at the High School Auditorium on Wednesday evening at 8 p. m., for the purpose of forming a Choral Society in La Crosse. All who are interested in music are cordially invited to attend.

Sick Headache And indigestion

The Former Is Very Frequently Caused By the Other.

The pneumo-gastric nerve connects the stomach region directly with the brain, and when the stomach is out of order the head is almost certain to be affected through reflex or sympathetic nervous irritation.

The headache of dyspepsia and indigestion is of every variety from the dull and least defined to the most acute pain. Sometimes the whole mass of the brain seems racked with anguish; at others, the ache is confined to the back or front part of the head. The first form is usually of a confused character, and is often accompanied by dimness of vision, and a mild vertigo, or so-called "rush of blood to the head." The victims of this symptom complain of a "swimming" or "lightness" in the head, and dizziness, or a sensation of motion while the body is still, and specks, or flashes of light before the eyes.

Persons subject to indigestion and other forms of stomach trouble are very frequent sufferers from headache, and in numerous cases a sick headache is the only noticeable symptom of indigestion present; in others, there are stomach manifestations as well.

The majority of people regard this headache as a separate disease, instead of a symptom of stomach-disease, which it usually is; and they attempt to treat it separately, and make the mistake of endeavoring to obtain relief through the use of headache powders, tablets, pills and seltzers, the use of which is extremely dangerous, as many of them contain such powerful depressant drugs as acetanilid, phenacetin, antipyrine, caffeine, etc., which depress the heart, brain and nerve centers, and lower arterial pressure; and many a person with a weak heart has become dangerously ill shortly after taking one of these headache remedies. They also interfere with the digestive processes, and actually make the dyspepsia worse than before.

In order to get rid of the headache of indigestion—and most headaches are caused by stomach trouble—one should endeavor to reach and remove the cause, and the headache effect will soon be relieved.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS do not cure the symptoms; they cure the cause of the headache, which permanently removes the symptoms. They digest every atom of food in the stomach, cure all forms of stomach trouble, and the headache, and every other disagreeable symptom and untoward effect is quickly gotten rid of.

Don't make the mistake of trying to cure your dyspeptic or nervous headache through the use of headache powders, tablets, etc. Use common sense, good judgment, and one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and you will be agreeably surprised at the rapidity with which the headache will be relieved and cured simultaneously with the relief and cure of the stomach disturbance.

Purchase a package from your druggist today for 50 cents, and send us your name and address, and we will forward you a trial package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

MRS. WALSH LOSES MANY VALUABLES

rified and in fact everything that could be hastily gathered taken.

It is overlooked, a "Roll" containing a very large sum of money was overlooked by the robber in his haste to pull off the job during the dinner hour of Mrs. Walsh.

Mrs. Walsh almost went into hysterics upon discovering her loss but the police were immediately notified and placed on the scent, still warm. They made a hurried investigation of the room, made inquiries of the hotel employees for possible clues and all trains leaving the city were watched in an effort to stop suspicious characters but all efforts were to no avail.

The authorities in the larger cities have been sent lists of the stolen property and instructions to arrest parties attempting to dispose of the same.

No Clues Found

Complete mystery surrounds the taking of the gems. No one to whom suspicion might point has been discovered, the robber has apparently well covered his tracks and all hopes of his detection and arrest seem hopeless.

CENTRAL BANK IS WALL STREET JOB

Crozier Declares It Deliberate Plan of Monopolists to Control Nation's Monetary System

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—"The plan for a central bank originated in Wall street and not with the national monetary commission. Wall street will control this bank or there will be no such institution."

So declared Alfred Crozier, the Wilmington, Del., authority, who is probably one of the best versed students of finance in the country, when asked for an explanation based on the statement published that one of the commission admits that such a bank will be recommended.

"It is really humorous," said Mr. Crozier, "to note the coy manner in which Wall street's interests are allowing information to leak out. As a matter of fact this deal, the prize bunco game of American history calculated to place the entire control of the nation's currency in the hands of a Wall street company, has been completed for months. Fearing the uproar that would have been certain to result had the entire scheme been sprung on the public at once, the men engineering the deal have been shrewd enough to spring their plans by strategy."

"Today's scheme is accredited to one of the members of the monetary commission. It is planned that the financial interests of Europe appointed by the last congress has decided that a central bank is necessary, is merely a feeler. If it causes a protest, as it is sure to do, from the small bankers who have not yet been whipped into line, the way will be smoothed and it will be easy to find out who the opponents of the bill are."

Not in the Open

"Badly as Wall street wants this institution which would give it entire power to issue and withdraw the money of the country, namely the power to make and unmake panics—the men back of the project will not knife their own offspring in an instant if they feel that any scheme will be consummated which will keep the control of the institution in the hands of the government."

The "Joker" Is Plain

"Of course, there has been no open talk of Wall street control of a central bank of issue. Such a thing would be fatal. The plan is for a bank with capital stock privately owned. In my opinion no possible scheme could be devised which could prevent Wall street from gaining control of a bank with its stock issued as this is planned."

There are a great many suggestions made regarding the proposed bank and every effort will be made by the Wall street interests to surround the entire matter with such a wealth of technicalities that the public will refuse to pay any attention to the scheme.

The real issue, however, is merely this: Shall a great central bank be established which will have power to issue or secure our money and if so shall it be done by the government or by private corporations?

ly, just when the owner of the jewels would be away from the room is apparent. No one, with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Walsh had pass keys to the room and the theory that the thief could have obtained one of these long enough to have a duplicate made is considered possible but improbable, hence it is believed the lock was picked.

Other Diamond Thefts

In view of the fact that this is the third bold diamond robbery to occur in La Crosse in comparatively short time gives rise to the belief that La Crosse has been the scene of the operations of a clever gang of diamond thieves. That the robberies have been "pulled off" at places where there were jewels shows conclusively that they had familiarized themselves with the location of gems before attempting the jobs.

The first diamond robbery occurred a few months ago when the home of Dave Palmer, proprietor of the Reliable Steam Laundry was entered and a stone valued at several hundred dollars taken. This robbery was followed by that at the residence of "H" Goddard, a wealthy lumberman, Seventh and King streets, when a $700 diamond shirt stud was taken. In both of these cases the work of the thieves was clever and all efforts of the police were without avail.

LOCAL COMPETITION AT THE 1910 SHOW

Local Dogs will Not Have to Compete Against Big Bench Winners, Says Hauser

KENNEL CLUB SUCCESSFUL

First Annual Dog Show Leaves Good Balance and Interest Is Attracted to Fine Dogs

Owners of local dogs will not have to enter them against high class bench winners unless they desire to. Next year the La Crosse Kennel club's show will have county and local competition in which breeders will compete with each other without having to "go up against" the big winners from the metropolitan shows unless they so desire.

President John Hauser of the local Kennel club this morning declared the show just closed a most successful one. The fair association and the Kennel club both made good profits and the handlers, exhibitors and judge were well pleased with the show and the entries. It will tend, says Mr. Hauser, to interest local people in high class dogs and there is reason to believe that La Crosse fanciers will make a remarkable showing next year. Many of the entries at the local bench show were good enough to go into the Chicago show, says Dr. Hauser, with good chances of winning first places. Oscar Hultberg yesterday received a high class English bull dog from England and many other local fanciers are receiving new dogs.

W. A. Gething of Stevens Point, Wis., one of the handlers here sold $245 worth of dogs in the city during the fair. Other handlers who were well pleased with the show are F. G. Ober, Duluth; Walt McRoberts, C. H. Udell, Devils Lake, Wis., and J. A. Jones, Milwaukee.

The Kennel club paid premiums to outsiders immediately and officers are now working up the prize awards and the premiums will be ready for distribution among local prize winners within a few days.

A meeting of the club officials will be held within a very short time, at which the business of the show will be finished up and plans formulated for holding a much larger show next year. One of the features of next year's show will be attention paid to working dogs, from the farm and field, it being the idea to recognize the worth of dogs which are of real value to mankind. Many of these dogs would not show well on bench points, but considered from working value would take good prizes.

FAILED TO APPEAR IN ASSAULT CASE

Henry Klaus, a driver for the Kruener Hardware company, was annoyed by small boys Friday who pulled the load from his wagon. After remonstrating with them some time he caught Bert Swartz and it is alleged, kicked him.

Klaus was brought into county court this morning on a charge of assault and battery preferred by the boy's father. The case was dismissed as the complaining witness did not appear.

S. strikes directly at the root, and by purifying the blood of every trace of the virus, completely and permanently cures the trouble. S. S. S. is Nature's blood purifier, harmless in its action and certain in its good results. It is made from a combination of roots and herbs, each of which has a definite and specific action in purifying the blood. Years were spent in selecting and proportioning the different ingredients, but when S. S. S. was perfected it soon demonstrated its superiority over all other blood medicines, and now, after 40 years, it is still the one and only certain cure for Contagious Blood Poison. While driving out the poison from the circulation S. S. S. builds up and strengthens the system by its fine vegetable tonic effects. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison S. S. S. is your most certain reliance, and because of its freedom from mercury, potash or any other mineral, it is absolutely safe for every one. ## PARSONS CHARGES A CANNON FRAUD

New Yorker Declares Tammany Collusion Re-elected Uncle Joe—Calls Him a Skunk

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.—Congressman Herbert Parsons of New York, who is also chairman of the New York Republican county committee and a leader in the majority fight now going on there, will probably be called upon to substantiate before an investigation committee from congress, the sensational charges he had made regarding an alleged deal between Tammany Hall and the men in control of the national house of representatives.

In brief, the charges are that those Democrats who bolted their party last March and assisted Speaker Cannon and his lieutenants to defeat the plan to amend the rules did so because prominent up-state Republicans of New York promised that the legislature at Albany would kill a pending resolution for the perfection of the registration laws which was bitterly opposed by Tammany Hall.

"Skunk," says Uncle Joe DANVILLE, Ill., Oct. 4.—This is what Speaker J. G. Cannon said in discussing the declaration of Congressman Herbert Parsons, of New York, that the re-election of Cannon was due to treason by New York Republicans in trading votes with Democrats for the defeat of New York election laws in the empire state legislature.

"I don't make any hullabaloo about such things," he said, referring to statements such as that by Congressman Parsons and the one sometime ago by Congressman Fowler. "When I first used to go hunting as a boy along the Wabash, I saw one kind of animal that I never saw before and I kicked at it. I was weeks in recovering. Since that time I never have kicked at that kind of an animal—in private life or in politics."

noon the desk sergeant said he knew nothing of the robbery. He did not know whether detectives were assigned to the case or not.

Store Was Sacked

When Mr. Lutz, accompanied by C. K. Krebaum, whom he had met at a restaurant where he had breakfasted, entered the store at 4:30 in the morning to telephone to other members of the party with whom he was going fishing he found the store looted of its richest articles. The thieves had either spotted the most valuable stuff, or instinctively selected it in their hasty-gurdy rush through the place.

As Mr. Lutz examined the store, beginning at the front door, he found the following conditions: The thieves had practically cleaned out the show window, missing but one valuable coat. They had next turned their attention to a rack just inside the window, and parallel with it, after which they had ransacked and robbed the rack along the west wall. In the middle of a rack at the east side of the room hung one cheap garment, on either side of which were double rows of costly fur coats. The burglars took every coat from this rack excepting the single cheap one, but found them too bulky and left them upstairs.

Left Some Garments

On a table to the rear there were found a collection of small but valuable articles, evidently bundled together by the thieves but left in their hurry to escape, while from various places in which muffs and scarfs were kept the best of the stock had disappeared.

Upstairs the store room had been entered and the furs of citizens who had stored them there were taken, in most cases the most costly things having been selected.

From the point under the skylight through which the robbers passed, at the north end of the second floor, down the stairs and about the work table there, Mr. Lutz picked up a trail of articles dropped by the men in their hurried movements.

Private Losses Not Known

Mr. Lutz declined to make public the names of the people who lost furs stored with him for keeping during the summer, telling all owners that information would not be given out until the goods were checked up. Mrs. A. L. McIntosh, 107 South Eleventh street, however, was assured that three valuable furs stored by her had not been molested.

Find Police in 40 Minutes

It was 4:30 when Mr. Lutz attempted to inform the police that a robbery had been committed, and not until 5:10 could officers be found. It was suggested that they call up the

T. P. BENTON & SON MAKE ASSIGNMENT

John Holley, Jr., as Trustee for Creditors to Continue the Business

Thomas P. Benton & Son, electrical contractors and manufacturers, one of the oldest concerns in the city, has turned over their business to John Holley, Jr., as trustee for the creditors. Certain departments of the business have been unprofitable for a number of years and it was decided to put the business in the hands of a trustee to pay off the creditors pro rata and begin over again.

The business will be continued by the trustee and he hopes to straighten out the affairs of the concern that it will be able, a little later, to resume business on its own responsibility.

roadhouses, but they said this would be useless as the inmates could not be awakened. They later informed Mr. Lutz that a man carrying two large grip and a package had taken the 3:10 Burlington train, and asked him whether the furs could have been carried in that way. Whether the attempted to intercept the man is not known.

Chief Is Called

At 5:30 Chief Webber was called on the telephone at his residence and informed of the robbery. This was his first knowledge of the case, and at once hurried down to take command.

Into Play

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 4.—The war has just got fairly started up in the First Minnesota district, which "Jim" Tawney represents in the house. This is the word which reaches Washington from reliable quarters. It is an open question whether Tawney will be able to survive politically. The head of the appropriations committee is beset with powerful opposition, and the recent visit of President Taft to Winona and his endorsement of Tawney has failed to quell that opposition in any measure. Minnesota is noted for its independent voting, and the call of party does not have an extremely strong influence in Tawney's district.

President Taft chose Winona as the place to defend the tariff bill and give Tawney some needed help. But the feeling that has been stirred up over the tariff is strong, and the opponents of the measure have not had their ardor checked. They hope to beat Tawney for the nomination, but if he is nominated he will then have a fight to get himself elected. The district is a close one, and in the last campaign Tawney was about 2,800 votes ahead of his Democratic opponent, Andrew French.

Tawney is devoting all his time to getting things shaped up in the district. He is fixing his political fences at every turn. He is making a number of speeches about the district. In his speeches he is defending the tariff bill and saying it is a good measure.

Call Him Insincere

It is this line of defense of his course in voting for the bill that is angering the tariff revisionists in his district. They say he is well aware the bill is not a good one, and that he is not frank in his explanation of why he voted for the measure. They say that Tawney was so tied up with the Cannon organization that he could not do otherwise than vote for the bill, and that the wise course for him to take is to admit that this was the case and that the bill was not such a one as merited his support, but that he was imperilled to vote for it for reasons connected with his position in the house Republican organization. Such an explanation, Tawney's opponents say, would be the truth and would be received by the voters with better grace than an argument that the bill is good.

Wants to Be Speaker

Tawney is going to take no chances of defeat, and will conduct the most vigorous campaign he has ever conducted to retain his seat in congress. The matter of staying in congress is peculiarly appealing to him just now, for the reason he sees the retirement of Mr. Cannon from the office of speaker is not far distant. This is quite likely to be the last term of Mr. Cannon as head of the house. At any rate, there is a prospect it will be. Tawney has ambitions to be speaker. He has long had them. He sees a possibility of these ambitions bearing fruit, perhaps, in the next congress, and he is peculiarly loath to give up his seat in the house at this time.

An important fact in the situation which is in Tawney's favor is that the Republican opposition has no strong man apparently on which to unite for the purpose of keeping the nomination from Tawney. It is quite likely the Democrats will settle again, on Andrew French who ran against Tawney in the last congressional election.

One of the sources of trouble for Mr. Tawney, aside from the tariff, is the row he got into with Roosevelt over the use of the secret service. This controversy has enabled his opponents to say that he is hostile to the Roosevelt policies. Another source of trouble is the opposition of some of the powerful tariff revision newspapers of the northwest, especially Minneapolis and St. Paul, which circulate liberally in his district.

FOR THE PUBLIC

New Formula Cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Hoarseness in Five Hours.

Much is being done in these days to stop the ravages of consumption, but probably nothing has been so effective as teaching the public how to break up a cold and cure coughs, bronchitis, tonsillitis, etc., with simple home-mixed medicine free from opium, poisons, etc. A laxative cough syrup, free from whiskey and poisons is the prime need. A cough indicates inflammation and congestion and these in turn are due to an excess of waste and poisons in the system. A tonic laxative cough syrup relieves the system of congestion, getting the following and mix a home: One-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Shake the bottle and take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times daily. Cut this out and save it for some friend.

SOME PERTINENT BUSINESS POINTERS

A person may be well qualified to organize and operate the productive end of a business, but yet be totally lacking in the qualities required at the selling end. The man selected as general manager must possess the ability to estimate and manage men; must be able to select the right man for the right place; must be able to "size up" men quickly and accurately.

Machinery may, and usually does, perform the greater part of the labor but the greater profits to be derived from any great enterprise depend to a great degree upon the intelligence and interest which the men behind the machinery bring to their work. Competition is strong. To win the confidence and patronage of jobbers, retailers and consumers a manufacturer's product must be equally as good or better than that put on the market by his competitors.

The general manager of a business has to do with a great variety of talent or ability. The total ability of his selling force must be greater than that of the selling force of his competitors. Not only must he select the best obtainable man for superintending the construction force, but he must secure one equally as well qualified to place in charge of his sales force. The office force, too, must be competent, vigilant and thoroughly organized.

Just a word about "System" concerning which we hear and read so much. System is a good thing, but it is not all. No system ever devised by man can make a factory or business efficient, if the manager and his force be deficient.

Any enterprise founded and conducted upon the theory that "others are making money at it and so can I," is defective. The idea that in order to get business, competition must be destroyed or prevented is very dangerous; that theory multiplies production and increases competition, and the inevitable result is demoralization or disaster. The real problem is: how can the demand be increased and stimulated so that the market will absorb your output at a profit in addition to existing demands.

A problem that confronts every employer of skilled labor is how to get from each employee 100 per cent results of his capacity. The only way is to inspire him with a lively interest in the work he is doing. Brain power is more effective than machine power. When the individual interest and enthusiasm of each employee has been enlisted the problem of cheap production and quality has been solved.

Every official from general manager down should stand on his earned, demonstrated merits. The men will see this and every man from office boy up will be stimulated and encouraged to greater effort to qualify himself for promotion. It will result that the output will be of a superior character.

Good generalship is as essential to success in business as it is to success in a military campaign. Loyalty and enthusiasm, coupled with a sense of responsibility, on the part of the force, makes it mobile, quick and determined in action; enables one to outflank competitors and overtake opportunities.

There is no "cut and dried" system which will work equally well with all organizations. The system is best which develops with the growth of the business. Each properly conducted and managed business is the architect and builder of its own "system." One might as well try to assume another man's character as to apply the entire system of another business to his own. That which has proved a success with one may be a failure with another.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 4.—Fred W. Johnson of New Ulm may be the democratic candidate for governor in 1910.

While Mayor "Dan" Lawler of St. Paul and Mayor James Haynes of Minneapolis loom upon the horizon as possibilities, whose strength over the state would add to any ticket, yet a Scandinavian is looked upon as necessary, and Johnson of New Ulm is believed by some to offer the best possibilities in this respect.
